Mrs. Henry Herman Passes Wednesday After Short Illness

Mrs. Henry Herman, lifetime resident of the community, passed away Wednesday at a Waukegan hospital. She was sixty-three years old and had lived in Antioch since her marriage to Henry Herman forty-two years ago.

Mrs. Herman was the daughter of Charles and Lizzie Turnock, pioneer residents of Salem township. Both were born in Salem township, and were lifelong residents there. She was born August 26, 1882 and was named Ada B.

She was active in the social life of Antioch for most of her life, being a member of a great many organizations, and was widely known throughout the entire region.

Surviving are her husband, two sons, James and Albert, both of Antioch, a daughter, Mrs. Ernest Quendenfeld of Waukegan; a sister, Mrs. S. Dibble of Salem, and five grandchildren.

Rev. Fr. McKay of St. Ignatius' Episcopal Church will conduct the funeral service Friday afternoon at 2 p. m. The services will be held at the Strang Funeral home, Main St., Antioch, where the body will lay in state until that time.

Conservation Dept. to Aid Lions Club in Fight on Foxes

Lions to Sponsor Fox Hunt; School for Trappers to Be Held

Swinging into action to curb the destructiveness of the now numerous foxes throughout the community, the Antioch Lions club has enlisted the aid of the Illinois State Conservation Department in organizing a fox hunt to destroy as many of the pests as possible.

Secretary Bud Arnold of the Lions club met with Harry Novotny of the Conservation Department yesterday arranged for conservation department direction for the hunt and all persons who are interested in taking part are asked to communicate with Arnold.

Arnold said that although there is no provision for the expenditure of state funds for the purpose of ridding the country of foxes through the method of providing attractive bounties on the pests, that such a law would be sought and that farmers and other interested persons will be asked to write to their representatives asking that money be provided for this purpose.

To Teach Trappers Arrangements have also been made to have an expert fox trapper come to the Conservation school on Fox Lake to give instruction in the trapping of foxes to all who wish it. Foxes are very difficult to trap and it is believed that a good many will avail themselves of this opportunity to learn. Persons who wish to receive this instruction are asked to get in touch with Arnold.

The co-operation of Antioch "Hot Stove Fishing and Hunting League" has been enlisted for the fox hunt and it is believed that from 75 to 100 men will be on hand for the hunt. No date for the hunt has been set as yet, but it is hoped that it can be held soon. Anyone who knows the location of fox dens in the region is asked to give this information to Arnold.

News of the Boys in Service

Headquarters Army Air Forces Personnel Distribution Command—Dear Editor:

1st Lt. Robert G. Phillips, who is now home at 1013 Main St., Antioch, Ill., is an Army Air Force member who was a Jap prisoner of war. He has completed his hospitalization and has indicated that he wishes to accept the Air Force Personnel Distribution Command's invitation to spend two weeks of his one hundred and four day furlough as a guest of the Air Forces at Miami Beach, Fla. He will arrive there on March 23, 1946.

In addition to receiving government paid transportation—either by commercial air, rail or private car—a former Air Force Jap prisoner of war may invite two of his immediate family to "vacation" with him on the same basis—as guests of the Air Force. Throughout their stay at Miami Beach, an appreciative Uncle Sam "picks up the checks" for all room and meal costs.

A Special Service department is ready to offer the soldier and his family an elaborate free program of entertainment. Golf, deep sea fishing, tennis, horseback riding, movies, swimming, sightseeing tours, or just sunbathing on the beach are some of the attractions offered.

If a man decides to accept this opportunity, and practically all have to date, he states on a questionnaire whether he would like to go to Miami Beach by air, rail or in his own automobile and the AAF Personnel Distribution Command routes him, arranges his transportation, gets reservations in the best hotels and pays the bill for the two weeks vacation.

The above unique program of affording our liberated prisoners of war a period of relaxation in pleasant surroundings is elective by the individual concerned. They may accept or reject the offer as they choose.

Jobless Pay Exempt From Income Tax

Jobless benefit payments to unemployed workers under the Illinois Unemployment Compensation law are not subject to income tax under the Federal law, Director of Labor Robert L. Gordon reminded today in reply to numerous inquiries. He stated further that the Division of Placement and Unemployment Compensation cannot at this time give information to workers concerning their 1945 wages.

"Most workers know that jobless benefits are exempt from income tax," Director Gordon explained, "but many are not aware that the Division of Placement and Unemployment Compensation cannot at this time tell them how much they earned last year. Only in connection with the filing of a claim for jobless benefits can such information be given, and claims based on 1945 earnings cannot be filed until the new benefit year begins on April 1."

Fredrick Nielsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick Nielsen, of Lake Villa, has been confined to his bed for the past month due to a serious knee injury, resulting from a fall.

1417 Motorists Cited in State Under New Laws

A total of 1417 Illinois motorists have been cited for failure to meet requirements of the new Drivers Financial Responsibility law since it became effective January 1, the Safety Responsibility Division reported to Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett today. The motorists are those who lacked proper bond or insurance to cover damage as a result of accidents, or who failed to report an accident.

They were certified to the Safety Responsibility Division by the State Department of Public Works & Buildings to post a total of $713,118. Drivers failing to post the required security within 30 days of their being certified face suspension of their right to drive until the case has been settled. The new law is applicable to only accidents involving death, injury or property damage of more than $50.00.

The Safety Responsibility Division informed Secretary Barrett that suspensions as a result of accidents under the new law total 257. Twelve were for failure to report an accident and ten were those who chose to waive their right to drive by failing to post the required security. The Public Works Department receives accident reports and fixes the amount of security. The Secretary enforces the law.

Five of the accidents in which motorists were without bond or insurance, involved twelve deaths. The largest amount of security a single motorist was ordered to post as a result of an accident was $10,300 in connection with a wreck near Tuscola in early January. Two deaths, one injury and property damage of $300 resulted from the accident.

The Safety Responsibility Division said that during the first two months of the new law's operation, 20 motorists who were cited for failure to meet its requirements, posted a total of nearly $6,000 to retain their driving rights pending settlement as to who should pay for damage as a result of an accident. Twenty-two motorists who were cited were cleared by release from the other party to the accident in which they were involved.

HUNTERS MUST USE MIGRATORY WATERFOWL BY MARCH 31

Livingston E. Osborne, state director of conservation, reminded hunters today that migratory waterfowl legally taken in Illinois this past season may be kept in storage until the end of March.

He quoted federal regulations which read: "Migratory game birds including migratory waterfowl, when taken legally and possessed in the numbers permitted by Federal Regulations, may be possessed during the period constituting the open season where taken, and for an additional period of 90 days next succeeding such open season."

"The time limit for possession of Migratory Waterfowl has been lengthened the last few years so that game taken by the hunter would aid in the meat shortage," Osborne said. "This has given the hunter more time to properly and wisely use the game."

Give To The Red Cross!

The War is not over for the Red Cross!

There remains for us a continuing responsibility in the great tasks of continued service to servicemen, help for hospitalized veterans, and council to veterans, as well as disaster relief whenever and wherever it may occur.

Antioch's quota for the current Red Cross Drive is $1800, and a public spirited committee is at work to raise this money—help them all you can—be a good American.

Body Of Chicago Man, Drowned October 25 Found at Crooked Lake

The body of Karl Rehfsuss, 3814 N. Marshfield, Chicago was found Monday on the east shore of Crooked Lake. Rehfsuss had been missing since October 25, when he had come to Crooked Lake to do some painting for a friend. Although no certain knowledge of what had happened to him, he was thought to have been drowned and efforts were made to recover his body at that time.

His body was identified by a watch, pocketbook and other articles found on the body. An inquest will be held in the future.

Zoning Ordinance Is Read Before Village Bd. Mon.

Antioch's new zoning ordinance, classifying all land within the village for specific building purposes, was read for the first time at a meeting of the Antioch Village board Monday evening.

The ordinance, as submitted by the zoning commission, set up some time ago, was tentatively accepted by the board. Some points remain to be cleared up, however, and the meeting was adjourned without voting on the ordinance. It is believed that acceptance by the board will take place at the next meeting and that the zoning ordinance will be operative within a short time.

Village Clerk Roy Murrie said that public hearings on the ordinance would take place as soon as the ordinance is accepted by the board and the findings of the zoning commission are made public.

Howard Sheehan, of Portland, Oregon, who has been very ill for the past month at St. Vincent hospital in that city is much improved.

Frostee Sno Company Resumes Production Monday, March 18

Local Manufacturing Co. Expects to Reach Peak Production Soon

Work was started at the Frostee Sno Company, producers of Frostee Sno Display materials and Christmas tree ornaments, on Monday of this week. The plant has been closed since the windup of the 1945 season, some time in December.

New equipment which has been added since the closing of production includes a new continuous oven, used in the production of ornaments, and a newly developed machine for inserting the ties and hangers on the ornaments. This work was formerly done by hand and it is expected that the new machine will speed up this part of the manufacturing process. Other machinery formerly in use at the plant has been re-designed to speed up production.

John Oftedahl, president of the company, said that the expected volume of business for the coming year would exceed $300,000, and that present orders for merchandise assure full production for the entire year.

82 New Industries Located in Northern Illinois During 1945

A total of 82 new industries—by far the largest number in a generation of record keeping—located during 1945 in northern Illinois communities served by the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, it was disclosed today by the territorial information department of the utility.

Direct employment resulting from the new industries will approximate 9,000 persons who will receive annual wages totalling about $20,000,000, according to the department's report.

"The unprecedented industrial activity which gained momentum throughout 1945 is still on the increase," the report said, "with decisions already made by another 24 industries to locate in the area this year."

The department also reported that negotiations are now in progress with 250 more industrial prospects who are considering locating either new or branch plants in the area because of transportation, market, and distribution advantages.

Of the 82 industries locating in the area last year, 27 were newly organized firms, 19 were branch plants of going concerns, many of national importance, and 36 were established industries which moved their operations to northern Illinois from other areas.

The new firms will utilize nearly 3,000,000 square feet of floor space to make hundreds of products ranging from candy to castings, and from forgings to fertilizer. About 55 per cent of the space has been leased or purchased in existing buildings, while the remaining 45 per cent is new construction.

In addition, existing industries in the area expanded their manufacturing facilities by over 2,000,000 square feet at a cost of nearly $29,000,000. Important additional employment will be provided by these expansions, the report said.

Red Cross Drive to Get Underway During This Week

Committee Hopes to Meet $1,000 Quota Set for 1946

Antioch township's annual Red Cross drive will gain momentum this week when more than 40 volunteer workers canvass Antioch residents for contributions to the 1946 drive.

Herman Holbek, Antioch Township chairman, has secured Roman Vos, 1945 chairman, Mrs. Irving Elms and Mrs. Herman Rosing as chairmen of the sub-committees to solicit contributions throughout the township and George Wagner, Walter I. Scott, Edw. C. Jacobs and Harry J. Krueger will receive contributions from business houses in the community.

The Red Cross 1946 Fund Campaign Facts booklet, which is issued to explain the necessity for the huge sum collected each year says that "war is never over for the Red Cross."

"For four long years the American people put everything they had into winning a global war—winning a war that bears no comparison in history for destruction and horror. Millions of men gave their lives fighting for world freedom—dying on far-flung battlefields—great distances from their loved ones. Theirs was an unexpected journey—a voyage they had not planned to take."

"That their strange journey may not have been in vain, the American people must work as hard for peace as they did for war. Through your Red Cross you may serve those men who gave so much for you. No matter where they are—overseas, in military hospitals, no matter who they are—veterans proudly wearing the gold eagle, civilians in peacetime—the helping hand of the Red Cross touches countless numbers of them, reaches out to aid and assist them by the tens of thousands."

Persons wishing to help with the drive or make contributions may contact Chairman Holbek or any member of the committee.

Kennedy's Record as Police Officer Factor in Election

25 Years of Service in County Police Work Gains Favor

Friends of Tom Kennedy, who are furthering his campaign for the Republican nomination for sheriff of Lake county are pointing to his long record of splendid service to the county as an endorsement of this candidacy.

Kennedy, who has been chief deputy Sheriff under three sheriffs of the county, has been in police work since his return from army service in 1921. He joined the Waukegan city police force and rose to head of the department during his nine years of employment by the city. While he was in charge at Waukegan, he installed the fingerprint system and other scientific crime detection apparatus which placed Waukegan law enforcement forces on a par with large cities all over the United States.

He was appointed chief deputy sheriff in 1930 and has been a member of the county law enforcement organization ever since, having served as sheriff from 1938 to 1942. Since 1942 he has served as chief deputy under Sheriff Walter Atkinson.

Kennedy has been graduated from the FBI National Academy in Washington, D. C., and has served as a speaker for the FBI in tours which have been arranged by the FBI in midwestern cities.

His "streamlining" of the Lake county sheriff's office was the subject of many articles in national publications. He was especially cited for the fine work performed by his office in apprehending the guilty persons in connection with the brutal Hancock murder case.

It Wasn't Planned

High production and low prices are being discussed as though they were something new to this country—and something that only the government can start rolling by careful planning.

How such an idea could receive credence is mystifying. The United States alone, of all the nations, has been really a successful mass producer at comparatively low prices. At the same time we alone, of all nations, have had a minimum of government interference. Other nations whose governments "planned" great futures, were dwarfed by the United States whose government had planned nothing for its people beyond seeing that they played fair with each other in the game of making a living. The compelling force in that game has been competition. If you don't believe this, consider the facts.

In the oil industry, for instance, it requires thirty of the major companies to account for 60 per cent of the United States crude oil production. The largest of these companies is responsible for only about 88 per cent of the oil business of the country. Even these thirty companies are practically all dependent on others for their crude oil.

It is in the area between the refinery and consumer that there is the greatest dispersion of the petroleum industry, for in this distribution and marketing bracket may be found most of the one and a quarter million members of the petroleum industry who indirectly serve the consuming public.

As a result of competition, petroleum is delivered in usable form to consumers' automobiles for about three cents a pound—in unlimited quantities. Here is just one case where the country enjoyed high production and constantly falling prices long before the word "planning" was included in the vocabulary of the American government.

Study The Record

There was a period of some 150 years in the United States, which is more or less a myth in the minds of the younger generation, during which time individuals planned and financed the enterprises that made this the most progressive nation in the world, with the highest standard of living, the greatest production per man, and the highest wages.

That was the era when practically every modern convenience we enjoyed today was made available to the public.

The development of electricity was a private undertaking carried on by men with vision and courage whose neighbors often thought them crazy. But in a short half century, every nook and corner of the United States was given electric service.

Then we ran into a new era, and following the lead of European countries where government sought to be wet nurse to the people, political planners promoted the idea that it was time for our government to control the opportunities and activities of its citizens. They succeeded in having the government pour hundreds of millions of dollars into electric power development to compete with or destroy established companies. The people were propagandized to the effect that this was necessary to prevent a power shortage, although there had never been a power shortage and there was no prospect of one.

This is but an example of the technique that was employed by European politicians to establish socialistic regimes which made government slaves out of tens of millions of people. Freedom and individual liberty fly out the window when government steps into the driver's seat.

The younger generation would do well to study American history and compare the current socialistic trends in our country with the principles upon which this government was founded. If they favor socialism, as they have seen it work over the world, go ahead with the present program. But if they prefer the American system of individual opportunity and freedom from regimentation, kick camouflaged socialism out of the political window.

Just mix B-CHLORO with the regular drinking water. A pink color shows that it is still active and working.

NEW PLAN

REDUCES CONSTRUCTION CHARGES FOR RURAL TELEPHONE LINES

Here's good news for rural residents! A new plan, lowering construction charges for telephone lines, is now in effect throughout our territory in Illinois.

Main Benefits to Rural Subscribers:

1. Where no pole line is now available along public highways, the telephone company will construct a line for 3/4 of a mile without charge. It will continue the line free of charge whenever such extension results in an average of one customer for each 3/4 of a mile of pole line. In the past, 1/2 mile of such construction was furnished. This new change will enable many people to obtain service at little or no cost for pole line construction.

2. For the relatively few customers who may still pay some charge for highway construction, the plan provides that the amount may be paid in monthly installments. Whenever additional customers are connected in an area where construction charges are being applied, the charge will be refigured resulting, in many instances, in reductions of the monthly charges for the customers involved.

3. Poles on private property to carry service from highway to the rural customers' premises have in the past been set and maintained at the customers' expense. Under the new plan, the telephone company will furnish, without construction charges, the number of poles necessary to provide 500 feet of entrance wires and will maintain all pole lines on private property.

This new plan represents another step in your telephone company's $3,000,000 program to provide more and better telephone service for people in rural areas. For further details, consult your local telephone company business office.

Library News

(By Marion Rigby, Librarian)

All who read "Burma Surgeon," by Gordon Seagrave, will want to read "Burma Surgeon Returns." Safe at last in India, after the retreat with Stilwell, the survivors fall to the task of driving the Japs out of Burma. Dr. Seagrave's polio unit carry on their arduous service in clearing stations and at last reach their old hospital in Namkham. "Sub Rosa," by Stewart Alsop and Thomas Braden, is the story behind the initials O. S. S. Under Major General William Donovan, the Office of Strategic Services grew into an organization of some 12,000 persons, whose work was very hush hush during the war. Their espionage activities provide many a thrilling chapter in this tale of high adventure.

Phyllis Bottome's new novel, "The Life Line," has all the excitement of a spy story plus a keenly etched picture of enemy territory during the war. Much of its action takes place in a mental hospital run by a coldly efficient woman doctor, who assists the anti-Nazi underground. "Winter Meeting," by Ethel Vance, is a modern American love story of great depth and understanding. It is the story of a few days in the lives of a man, a Congressional Medal hero of submarine warfare, and a remarkable and lovely woman, a New England writer whose life has been marred by a tragic childhood.

Cut Rural Telephone Construction Charges

The Illinois Bell Telephone Company has had approval by the Illinois Commerce Commission of its plan for the liberalization of telephone pole line construction charges in rural areas. This improvement goes into effect March 1, 1946.

Under the new plan, where no pole line is at present available along public highways, the telephone company will construct a pole line for 3/4 of a mile without charge in order to provide service to a new subscriber. It will continue to extend the line free of charge whenever such extension results in an average of one customer for each 3/4 of a mile of pole line. This change will go far toward enabling rural telephone applicants to obtain service for little or no cost for pole line construction. In the past 1/2 mile of such construction was furnished without charge.

For the relatively few customers in thinly populated areas who may still need to pay some charge for highway construction, the plan provides for billing the amount in small monthly installments for a stated period. Whenever additional customers are connected in an area where construction charges are being applied, the project will be refigured resulting, in many instances, in reductions of the monthly charges for the customers involved.

Poles on private property to carry service from the highway to the rural customers' premises have in the past been set and maintained at the customers' expense. Under the new proposal, the telephone company will share with customers the installation expense and assume all maintenance costs. It will provide, without charge, two poles or the number necessary to furnish 500 feet of entrance wire. In areas where underground type of highway construction is normally used, 500 feet of buried wire, including excavation and fill in, will be furnished.

These more liberal practices which result in further extensions of service at reduced initial cost to the customer represent another step in the telephone company's program to provide more and better telephone service for people in rural areas.

New Sugar Stamp Is Now Valid

Use For Canning Purposes; Will Be Good Until Oct. 31

Housewives will obtain sugar for home canning this year through use of their family ration books, the Office of Price Administration announced. Spare Stamp 9 became valid Monday, March 11, for five pounds of home canning sugar. The stamp will be good through October 31.

Most consumers will find Spare Stamp 9 in their Ration Book Four. Others, who have received their ration books recently, including many returned servicemen, will find the stamp in the single-sheet sugar ration book issued to them in lieu of Ration Book Four.

Since there are a number of uncertainties in the sugar supply outlook—particularly as to the amount of the Cuban crop which will be available and in relation to the requirements of war stricken areas—it appears unlikely that the home canning allowance will be more than 10 pounds per person.

Spare Stamp 9 is the first of two stamps to be made good for buying home canning sugar. It is made good now to provide sugar in the southern areas where fruits are available early in the year. Since the stamp will be good through October 31, housewives in other parts of the country can plan their use of the sugar to coincide with the arrival of fruits in good quantity in their neighborhoods. It is expected that a second stamp can be validated in late June or early July and, like the first stamp, have a validated period long enough to permit its use when fruits become plentiful in each area.

No addition to the regular consumption (five pounds each four-month period) can be foreseen at this time. Housewives are urged, therefore, to continue to budget their sugar use so that the home canning sugar will be used only as intended; that is, for actual home canning. The next regular sugar stamp becomes good May 1.

The OPA has explained that the new method of issuing home canning sugar, formerly granted upon application to local price and rationing boards, now reduced in number nationally to 1,885 from the war-time peak of approximately 5,800, has been adopted because local price control boards have not been handling rationing functions since January 1, when administration of the only remaining rationing program—sugar, was brought under OPA district offices. Because district offices would be unable to handle the approximately 35,000,000 individual home canning applications, a method of general issuance is provided. Thus, there will be no delay in getting sugar to home canners, as there would be if consumers were required to wait upon individual approval of applications.

For these reasons it was decided to validate the stamp throughout the country on the same date.

U. S. Army Offers Education Career

(This is one of a series of articles released by Lt. Col. Russell S. Bunker, Commanding Officer, Chicago Army Recruiting Station, in which he outlines the advantages of the Regular Army as a modern career.)

At no other time has a soldier in any army had the opportunity for educating himself to the degree that the U. S. Army offers today.

Wherever the soldier is stationed, in one of our great armies, . . . on an island outpost . . . or in one of the camps here in this country . . . he has every chance to take advantage of the educational facilities of the Army.

That the present-day soldier is eager to make the most of the educational program is evident by the large number of men now taking the many practical correspondence courses offered by the United States Armed Forces Institute at Madison, Wisconsin. So great has been the reception of this educational program by today's soldier that the Army is now one of the prime factors in this country's educational planning.

In addition to the opportunities made available by the United States Armed Forces Institute, the Army offers the soldiers in zones of occupation many chances to enroll in selected schools for advanced courses.

In Europe, for example, G. I.'s can now study at some of the world's greatest educational institutions—in Paris, London and Biarritz. Typical of the schools they can attend are Oxford and Cambridge University in England and the famed Sorbonne in France.

At the University of Paris, courses of eight weeks are available in many subjects, and eight hundred Americans—officers and enlisted men—can be accommodated at one time. The Army has also organized universities of its own with staffs made up of former teachers now in the Army, augmented by many eminent educators on leave from American institutions of learning.

Because of the varied interests and intellects of the American soldier, the Army's educational program must necessarily be broad and flexible. Some soldiers who have had little formal schooling are improving their ability to read and write simple letters. Some devote their study time to dairy farming. Courses in radio, engineering, and automobile repair are crowded. Mathematics, advertising, history, languages—chiefly French and German—are sought by many soldier-students. A total of more than 200 skills and trades are now being taught in Army schools.

Classes for men in the small unit schools constitute the most extensive part in the program. Study ranges from the fifth grade through the second year of college. Four million textbooks are available, covering more than 300 different courses in academic and vocational fields. Approximately 2,000 unit schools are now in operation in Europe, with 500,000 soldiers enrolled.

So well developed has been the Army education program that a vast majority of American high schools and colleges now grant credit for the successful completion of subjects studied under Army supervision.

And not only while in the service but also after his discharge will the soldier of today benefit by the Army's broad educational planning. For through the G. I. Bill of Rights, a discharged veteran will be able to enjoy as many as four years of free schooling at virtually any college or university in the country. In addition, while he is attending the school of his choice, the Government will give him $50 a month for living expenses, and will pay the school up to $500 a year to cover tuition, books, laboratory fees and other expenses.

To the young man who is considering making the Regular Army his career, its fine educational program is just another of the many factors that will make his choice for the years to come a wise and sound one.

To The Voters Of Lake County

For the past 25 years I have been established in business in Gurnee, Illinois. I am a married man and the father of four children.

Prior to my business experience I was a farmer and have always worked in close co-operation with them.

Being in business I am familiar with the general public and its needs.

When elected I will work in close co-operation with responsible organizations and Civic groups.

I offer individuals and minority groups direct action when a specific violation or threat to civil rights is brought to my attention.

I have always been an active worker within the Republican Party and your vote and support will be greatly appreciated.

BERNARD J. JURON

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR PROBATE JUDGE

(Excerpt from Waukegan News-Sun—January 10, 1946.)
Another race for Lake County office in this year's election began shaping up... with announcements today for Probate Judge by Bernard J. Juron. Juron, also a past president of the county bar, has practiced law 26 years, recently in Waukegan alone, although he formerly practiced in Chicago and for many years maintained offices in both Waukegan and Chicago. He moved almost 25 years ago to Round Lake, where he and Mrs. Juron and their 9-year-old son still live.

While he has had an extensive probate practice, he probably has become best known for his work representing cities and villages as municipal attorney.

He is former city attorney of Highwood, Winthrop Harbor village attorney, Round Lake village attorney, Lake Villa village attorney, Fox Lake village attorney and Wauconda fire district attorney.

He attracted wide attention for his work while city attorney of Highwood in the city's successful fight to close a tavern within 100 feet of a church.

Juron also served 12 years as a member of the Lake County Republican central committee, and 13 years as Avon Township justice of the peace. He now is vice president of the new Lake County School Survey Committee, a non-political education post.

He was first president of the Grayslake Lions Club and is retiring president of the Lake County Shrine Club. He also holds memberships in the Waukegan Elks lodge and numerous other civic and fraternal organizations.

WILL APPRECIATE YOUR VOTE

To the Republican Voters of Lake County

I am a sincere candidate for the office of Probate Judge upon my own merits and respectfully submit my qualifications to the men and women voters of Lake county. I am under no obligation or promise to any persons or faction, except a fair and impartial administration of Justice in the office.

Sincerely yours,

Charles E. Jack

Historical landmarks and points of interest near your own home are represented pictorially, with suggestions of modern Illinois serving as a striking contrast. Included also are dozens of historical tid-bits and clever little sketches by John McKee on the early days in Northern Illinois.

Your Service Bulletin is a monthly event. In future months the Service Bulletin will carry popular and useful household hints, recipes and suggestions on making best use of your home appliances. It's always full of amusing sketches and a lighthearted verse or two... and it's always as entertaining to read as your favorite magazine!

How would you CHART YOUR COURSE?

Pictured here are the records of four "life lines" of our business—four things which largely control the destiny of any business, whether it be a farm, a factory or a store. They are Wages, Materials Costs, Prices, and Profits. Suppose these were pictures of what is going on in your own affairs. How would you chart your future course from these facts?

What about wages?

Wages have risen steadily for five years. Before the strike which began on January 21 in ten of our plants and which has choked off nearly all farm machinery production, earnings of employees of these plants averaged $1.15 1/2 an hour, not including any overtime. The Union demanded a 34 cents per hour increase and a Government board has now recommended a general increase of 18 cents an hour, which would make average earnings $1.33 1/2 an hour. Weekly average would be $53.40.

What about materials?

No one seems to know how high materials costs will go. The Government has increased steel prices as much as $12.00 a ton, with an average increase for all grades of 8.2%. Steel is the most important material we buy, but prices on other materials are also increasing.

What about prices?

There has been no general increase in our prices since they were frozen by the Government in early 1942. Since then a few small increases have been allowed where particular machines were substantially changed in design.

What about profits?

Risk is part of the American profit and loss system, so we do not, of course, ask either our customers or the Government to guarantee that we can be certain of profits each year. The chart tells the story of our profits during the war. Although Harvester produced more goods than ever before, it had no desire to get rich out of war, so our rate of profit has steadily gone down. What our 1946 profit will be is extremely uncertain.

What is the next step?

As you can see, our present situation is that with frozen prices and declining profits, we are asked to pay higher materials costs and to make the biggest wage increase in the history of the Company. Can we do this? Wages and materials consume all but a few cents of every dollar we take in. If our prices continue frozen, and cost of wages and materials continues to rise, obviously our Company will begin to operate at a loss at some point.

The exact point at which operating at a loss would start is a matter of judgment. Government agencies and union leaders may have opinions as to where that point is. But if they turn out to be wrong, they can shrug their shoulders and say: "Well, it wasn't my responsibility. I didn't make the decision."

The management of this Company cannot and will not say that. It dares not gamble. It has to be sure. Continuation of our service to millions of customers, the future jobs of thousands of employees, and the safety of the investments of 39,000 stockholders depend on our making a correct decision as is humanly possible.

What about future prices on farm machinery?

The judgment of Harvester's management now is that we cannot safely make the huge wage increase recommended by the Government until the Government authorizes adequate increases in the prices of farm machinery to cover the resulting increased costs.

That is not a judgment that makes us happy. The Company does not want to raise prices. We prefer to lower prices, when possible, and we know our customers prefer to have us do that. We have produced at 1942 prices, and hoped we could continue to do so. We have delayed seeking general price relief in the hope that it could be avoided. Now we are convinced that it cannot be avoided any longer. The price question must be settled. Until it is settled we do not see how we can settle the wage question. Until the wage question is settled we do not see how we can resume production and begin turning out the farm machines which we know our farmer customers need.

Because of the important stake which both farmers and city dwellers have in this controversy, we are bringing these matters to your attention. Through the cross currents of today's conditions, we are trying to chart a course that is fair to our employee, to our farmer customers, and to our stockholders.

What to do for

S-L-O-W BREEDING

The slow breeder is usually the best cow in the herd. The causes of slow breeding include: Acid condition, retention of the afterbirth, low vitality from heavy production, or some infection.

TREAT COWS WITH DR. DAVID ROBERTS SPECIAL RX NO. 63 and

Cow Capsules

Following the Rx No. 63 treatment, which is given for a few weeks before the cow is bred, insert a Dr. David Roberts COW CAPSULE (Ant-Acid) at breeding time.

There is a Dr. David Roberts prescription for every curable animal ailment. We carry a complete line of these prepared prescriptions. Stop in and stock up the next time you are in town.
